

PRE-BALLET CLASSES AT CRYB

In this division the primary focus is development of the child's coordination, motor skills, listening skills and musical awareness. In the first few years of Pre-- Ballet Division the emphasis is placed on natural movement, flexibility and creative expression. As the child progresses through this division there is a gradual shift to a more structured movement program. The child begins to comprehend studio etiquette, spatial awareness, and the correct ballet stance through age-appropriate exercises.

In the Pre Division students are placed according to age so that the development and coordination of the students are similar. Creative Dance and Pre-A classes are 45 minutes long -- just enough time to hold their interest and maintain their focus. Pre-B increases class time to an hour as students develop more focus and longer concentration.

Students will perform with their class in the year-end Spring Gala Performance.
